

EuroEAP 2027

The 15th International Conference on Soft Transducers and Electromechanically Active Polymers

DATES

8–10 June 2027

CITY

Bari, Italy

HOST

Politecnico di Bari

About EuroEAP.

Organized by the non-profit EuroEAP Society, this annual conference is the premier global forum for soft smart materials and transducers. Since 2011, we have been bridging the gap between academic innovation and industrial impact. With a focus on high-quality science and intimate networking, our event brings together around 150 global experts for stimulating discussions in a friendly, collaborative atmosphere.

Conference scope & topics.

We cover the full value chain from material chemistry to integrated products.

TECHNOLOGIES

Electrostatic (DEA, HASEL), electrohydrodynamic, ionic polymers, liquid crystal elastomers, shape memory materials, and more.

APPLICATIONS

Soft robotics, haptics, biomedical systems, wearables, smart textiles, optics, and energy harvesting.

EXPERTISE

From material development and device manufacturing to modeling, simulation, and control.

Why partner with us?

High-density networking: where quality meets connection.

Targeted expert access

Engage with a focused group of global experts and decision-makers in soft robotics and smart materials.

Trend insight

Gain early visibility into the latest breakthroughs in soft transducers, a rapidly evolving sector with significant industrial potential.

Quality & intimacy

Benefit from a uniquely personal conference environment that fosters deep technical discussions and long-term partnerships.
